Re: New North Central London Holding Zone

Good day,

Please be advised that on January 30, 2024, the TVDSB Board of Trustees received the annual Accommodation Plan, which included the creation of a new holding zone, entitled North Central London Holding, in the attendance area of Centennial Central Public School. Please find attached a map showing the exact location of the new holding zone, denoted in red hatching.

Centennial Central PS is located just outside the City of London and has been experiencing sustained enrolment pressure. Given various site restrictions, additional portables cannot be placed on site to accommodate new students. Because of this enrolment pressure, TVDSB has approved this holding zone to designate students from new development to Jack Chambers Public School, until permanent accommodation can be provided, effective September 2024.

Please do not hesitate to contact the undersigned if clarification is required.

Regards,

Cassandra Harms
