Subject: Public Sector Salary Disclosure Act Report for Calendar Year 2023

BACKGROUND:

Each year, since the Public Sector Salary Disclosure Act was passed in 1996, the Ontario Government has published a compendium on public sector employees who were paid a salary of $100,000 or more. Organizations that receive public funding from the Province of Ontario are required to disclose the names, positions, salaries and taxable benefits of these employees.

The purpose of this legislation is to provide a more open and accountable system of government. It lets taxpayers compare the performance of an organization with the compensation given to the people running it. People paid $100,000 or more a year are usually the senior employees in an organization. It also provides taxpayers with more details on how their tax dollars are spent.

The Public Sector Salary Disclosure Act covers county and other local governments, universities and colleges, school boards, hospitals, and Crown agencies. It also applies to Provincial Government ministries and members of the Assembly. Other non-profit organizations that receive a large share of their funding from the provincial government are covered as well.

ANALYSIS:
