Middlesex County puts Spotlight on Four Counties Health Services

London, ON

Each year, the Middlesex County Department of Economic Development selects 8 businesses; 1 from each of their lower-tier municipalities to feature in their Business Profile Video Series. This year, the department selected businesses from 7 of their lower-tier municipalities but decided to do a special feature on Four Counties Health Services in the Village of Newbury.

There were many reasons for this unique decision including bringing attention to the employment opportunities available in the local healthcare sector and heightening awareness of availability of these important services in Middlesex County. "Having Four Counties Health Services located here is a huge benefit to rural Middlesex County residents. We're very fortunate to have emergency services, inpatient care, rehabilitation services and more locally available," says Cara Finn, Director of Economic Development.

Four Counties Health Services offers numerous services and the helipad located adjacent to their emergency department allows patients to receive higher levels of care immediately. Having partnerships with private labs, a wellness centre, Southwestern Ontario Aboriginal Health Access Centre and a dental clinic makes Four Counties Health Services an asset to Middlesex County. Undoubtedly, the healthcare sector has been one of the hardest hit within the last two years due to COVID-19. This feature also acts as a celebration of our front line workers' strength and resiliency that inspired us all during this tough time.
